Vicar's update

It's the weekend of our harvest festival celebrations – a time when we stop and notice and give thanks for all of God's goodness. This seems the perfect time for me to reflect on my first month as you vicar.

I truly am more thankful every day that through a mixture of human discerning and God's purposes I became your vicar. It has been an intense, busy, sometimes frustrating and more often joyful month.

The frustrations are those that always come with a new job, when you don't know where things are or how things work. Just this week I made an emergency phone call to find out how to work the screen, but I got the answer just in time to Welcome Paddock School for their harvest celebration. And now that's another thing I know!

The joys are more particular to St Margaret's. My greatest pleasure has been getting to know more of you: I've been working with dedicated, can-do and talented members of St Margaret's who do so much to make the church flourish; And I've enjoyed cups of tea and coffee and lovely conversations with quite a few of you now. My favourite place I've been introduced to, and my top tip for you, if you haven't found it already is Kaffee Putney in the old cemetery on the Lower Richmond Road!

I have also been very touched by the trust that that some of you have shown in sharing with me your worries, your difficulties and your hopes. It is a great privilege to walk alongside people in joy and pain and to pray with you and for you.

When I was a little girl, I was taught to count my blessings. Modern psychology has caught-up with what Christians have always known. That naming the good things in our lives changes our perspective and makes our lives better. I encourage you to take some time this week to really notice the good things in your life, to think about them, and to thank the giver.

If you would like to meet you can arrange that by emailing me at vicar@stmargaretsputney.org or messaging me on 07706 755018.

God bless you in the week ahead, Susan.
