Vicar's update

I want to start by thanking you all for giving Sarah and her family such a wonderful send-off last Sunday. I know it meant the world to her. I would like to offer particular thanks to Tony for coordinating everything, John for MCing the reception, to Florence for making one of her beautiful cakes, Gil for generously providing one of his much sought-after paintings of St Margaret's, Hilary for putting together a photobook chronicling Sarah's ministry in St Margaret's and last, but by no means least, Ben for his wonderful song, I'll be humming 'one less Sarah to confuse' for days!

Today we are giving thanks for and remembering those who have served and given their lives for the protection of our nation. What difference does it make that we remember together as a community of Christians? If nothing else, we should be good at it because remembering is at the heart of our faith and worship. Every week we remember Christ's death and resurrection in bread and wine. Of course, the one we remember, Jesus Christ, refused to use force, or let anyone use force on his behalf to save himself. He came to bring peace and reconciliation - between us and God and between us and one another.

Remembering what it has cost others when we as humans have failed to act as peacemakers in our world should inspire each one of us to work in small and larger ways for the peace that Jesus came to bring. We may not have the power to bring peace in the troubled parts of the world we pray for each week. But we can build peace in our families, in our communities and in our city. We can start by refusing to see people who are different from us as other and of less value than us. What will you do this week to promote peace?

If you would like to meet you can arrange that by emailing me at vicar@stmargaretsputney.org or messaging me on 07706 755018. These details also work if you have something you'd like me to pray for. God bless you in the week ahead, Susan.
